HARDWARE ARCHITECTURE, NON-HOSTING CLARIFICATION & THIRD-PARTY APPLICATION GOVERNANCE

This document outlines the clear legal demarcation regarding hardware distribution, third-party software applications, and user responsibility. SuperBox for Sale operates exclusively as an authorized distributor of Android TV hardware devices.

01 Hardware Architecture & Operational Boundaries

Legal Parameter	Official Statement & Regulatory Clarification
Hardware Character	Fully legal Android TV consumer hardware running certified Android 12 or Android 14 operating systems.
Zero Media Hosting	SuperBox does not host, stream, rebroadcast, store, or transmit any audio or video content on company servers.
App Store Mechanism	Users independently download and configure third-party streaming apps via the built-in App Store application.
Copyright Respect	Strict adherence to the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) and international intellectual property laws.
Authorized Distributor	Official SuperBox Reseller License #SP20250928002 verified on https://auth.mysuperboxtv.com/.
Hardware Warranty Desk	Central Customer Support & RMA Center, 13951 Pipeline Ave, Chino, CA 91710, USA.

SuperBox devices are multi-purpose computing hardware designed for home entertainment, video playback, web browsing, and personal media management.

02 Third-Party Software & User Responsibilities

- ✓ Independent Selection: Users choose, install, and operate third-party applications at their sole discretion.
- ✓ Lawful Use Mandate: End users are strictly required to utilize hardware and software in full compliance with local laws.
- ✓ Third-Party Content: Third-party app developers remain solely responsible for the functionality and content of their apps.
- ✓ Genuine Factory Units: Hardware is distributed with standard factory firmware free from unauthorized boot modifications.
